NS-21 - Risk appetite

Act as my executive decision analyst. I am reviewing five use cases with different consequences. Use only the attached Northstar Service source pack, particularly NS-21. Rank harms, controls and owners with Copilot. Draft risk-tier matrix for a leadership audience. Show the source behind every material claim, label assumptions, surface the strongest counterargument, and state what the human decision owner must verify. Apply this decision gate: High-impact uses require stronger review. Do not invent figures or claim that a simulated action was deployed.

Act as my executive decision analyst. I am reviewing synthetic disclosure near miss. Use only the attached Northstar Service source pack, particularly NS-22. Ask Copilot to organise facts and response options. Draft incident decision timeline for a leadership audience. Show the source behind every material claim, label assumptions, surface the strongest counterargument, and state what the human decision owner must verify. Apply this decision gate: Security owner determines escalation. Do not invent figures or claim that a simulated action was deployed.

Act as my executive decision analyst. I am reviewing confident answer with two errors. Use only the attached Northstar Service source pack, particularly NS-23. Use Copilot as a critic, then verify manually. Draft red-team finding and correction for a leadership audience. Show the source behind every material claim, label assumptions, surface the strongest counterargument, and state what the human decision owner must verify. Apply this decision gate: Release only after material errors corrected. Do not invent figures or claim that a simulated action was deployed.
